

I Love You More Than Myself

© 2012 Will Stanley

You know that I love you more than myself
And I hope you know exactly what that means
You are the vessel, that holds my soul
And into you I pour all my hopes and dreams.
What I mean is
You're more important to me than life itself
That's why I do everything I can
To make you aware of just how much I care
You've made me a happy man.

People who know us always understand
Why I claim you know me better than I do
They know I'm a coward afraid to make a stand
You are my backbone, you are the glue.

And it's true
That I love you more than myself
And I have, since our love first began
Cuz you're more important to me than life itself
And that's why I'm a happy man.

Instrumental

Up until now I've drifted to and fro
Scared of what commitment could create
But now that you're with me, I'm not afraid to show
How much I love you, you're my soul mate

And it feels great
To know that I love you more than myself
You can say, that I'm your biggest fan
Cuz you're more important to me than life itself
And I'm a happy man.
You've made me a happy man.
I'm your happy man.
