

Mary Was The One

© 2007 Will Stanley

Sandy had hair yellow as sunshine
Brandy's lips tasted like wine
Candy smelled dandy
And when it came to looks, Randy was sublime
High school dates are fun to recall
What a shame I couldn't have them all
Each girl, was sweet, but there was one that knocked me off my feet
And when it came down to push and shove
Mary was the one that I would love.

Liza was awful nice to talk to
Elizabeth was warm at night
Bethany was sexy
And everything she tried, Bette did right.
I always wondered how, I would finally choose
So I analyzed the all-important cues
Each girl, was great, they had things I'd appreciate
But as I graded my love test
Mary was the one that I loved best.

Playing the field sure can be lots of fun
But after all was said and done
I chose the girl who seemed to be made for me
And now I live so happily, blissfully, with Mary

When I think back, on the choice that I made
Only one woman made the grade.

She was so sweet, she knocked me clean right off my feet
So when it came down to push and shove
Mary was the one I truly loved

She was so great, she gave me plenty to appreciate
So when I set up my love nest
One girl was better than the rest
Mary was the one that I loved best.
