

More Than You Bargained For

© 2018 Will Stanley

Too much water's flowed over the dam
We're startin' to feel like love is a scam
I can't believe what once was so hot is now bland
You say you still think I'm ok
And how can relationships stay
Just the way they were on the first day

But I want to prove that you are wrong
I'm going to show my love is still strong

I've sketched it out on a notepad
A way to reconstruct what we had
You won't believe what I have in store
So much more than you bargained for.

Be prepared for flowers galore
A dozen roses or maybe more
I'll be by your side when you go to the store
We'll take in chick flicks when you desire
I'll give you kisses that will light your fire
In bed, I'll be your lovin'-satisfier.

That's the way it's going to be
You'll be impressed with the brand new me.

I've sketched it all out in my head
A way to recreate what we had
You won't believe what I have in store
So much more than you bargained for.

You'll feel like we have just met
I'll make you see you've got nothing to regret

Instrumental

So please don't walk out that door
I know you've heard this all before

But this time it's more than just a thought
Promise me you'll give it one more shot
Cuz you won't believe what I have in store
So much more than you bargained for'
