

Whatabout

© 2019 Will Stanley

You say it's time for you to move on
But I have to wonder what has become
Of all those times you bared your soul to me
And I showered you with love and empathy

Whatabout all those tears
That you shed while laying out your fears
Whatabout all that pain
Was it for real or a game
Tell me please, what was that all about

I can't believe you'll find another guy
Who'll smother you with kisses when you cry
Or sympathize with how cruel life has been
And how dysfunction began your long tailspin

Whatabout those nights we shared
When I helped you out of deep despair
Whatabout all that pain
Was it for real or in vain
Tell the truth, what was that all about

I thought my support would be a guarantee
Of our relationship's longevity
Instead I find that you've changed your mind
And now you want to break all the ties that bind

Instrumental

Whatabout all those tears
That you shed while confronting all your fears
Whatabout all that pain
Was it for real or just feigned
Tell me please, what was that all about
Tell me please what was that all about.